Office Hours: by appointment

Required Text: “Microsoft Office 2010, Projects”, Carol Cram, Thomson Course Technology, 2012

Course Description: IS295 is a hands-on course that will expand the student’s knowledge and ability in various types of productivity software. Activities in the form of work-related cases will be assigned.

Course Objective: The main objective of the course is to give the student exposure to various types of productivity software in order to build confidence in their ability to appropriately incorporate these applications into their own work situations.

Course Requirements:

- A. Homework assignments will be dispersed throughout the session. These will take the form of an exercise done using one of the productivity applications, the result of which will be submitted to blackboard. Each assignment will be due before the start of the next class. Altered copies of class work will not be accepted. NO late assignments will be accepted.
- B. Exams will test the student’s ability to use specific commands for each application as well as the student’s understanding of the concepts in each application program. There will be exams in Excel and Access only.
- C. An independent project will be assigned for PowerPoint, Excel and Access. Projects are due AT the start of the class on which they are due. Projects turned in after this time will receive a 10% grade reduction for each day (not class) that they are late.

Grading

The weights given to assignments and exams are as follows:

- | | |
|---|-----|
| • 2 exams (32% for Excel, 33% for Access) | 65% |
| • completion of class assignments | 10% |
| • 3 projects (10% for Ex & Ac, 5% for PP) | 25% |

STATEMENT ON ACADEMIC CONDUCT: By enrolling in this course, each student assumes the responsibilities of an active participant in UMBC's scholarly community in which everyone's academic work and behavior are held to the highest standards of honesty and integrity. Cheating, fabrication, plagiarism, and helping others to commit these acts are all forms of academic dishonesty and they are wrong. Academic misconduct will result in disciplinary action that may include failure of the course, suspension or dismissal.

Acts of Academic Misconduct are defined as the following:

- Cheating: Knowingly using or attempting to use unauthorized material, information, or study aids in any academic exercise.
- Fabrication: Intentional and unauthorized falsification or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise.
- Facilitating Academic Dishonesty: Intentionally or knowingly helping or attempting to help another commit an act of academic dishonesty.
- Plagiarism: Knowingly representing the words or ideas of another as one's own in any academic exercise, including works of art and computer-generated information/images. To read the full policy on academic integrity, consult the UMBC Student Handbook, Faculty Handbook, or the UMBC Policies section of the UMBC Directory

Any instances of academic misconduct will result in a 0 for that assignment and may be referred to the University for further disciplinary action.

Student Support Services

UMBC is committed to eliminating discriminatory obstacles that disadvantage students based on disability. Student Support Services<http://www.umbc.edu/sss/html/sss_disab.htm>(SSS) is the UMBC department designated to receive and maintain confidential files of disability-related documentation, certify eligibility for services, determine reasonable accommodations, develop with each student plans for the provision of such accommodations, and serve as a liaison between faculty members and students regarding disability-related issues. If you have a disability and want to request accommodations, contact SSS in the Math/Psych Bldg., room 213 or at 410-455-2459. SSS will require you to provide appropriate documentation of disability. If you require accommodations for this class, make an appointment to meet with me to discuss your SSS-approved accommodations."

Make-up Exams: If you are unable to take a scheduled exam, please see me as soon as possible. If I feel the reason for your absence from class is indeed an emergency, you will have the opportunity to make up the exam. Documentation to support the reason for the absence will be helpful to me in making my decision. If insufficient notice of your absence is not given, no make-up exam will be administered.
