GETTING STARTED

Whether you're a current UMBC student, a visiting student from another institution, or an incoming new student starting in the fall, UMBC's summer session can help you catch up or get ahead.

Here are a few guidelines to help you GRIT going!

CURRENT UMBC STUDENTS

Registration for summer session begins March 21. Advising is highly recommended, but not required. Register online through myUMBC—just like the fall and spring semesters.

VISITING STUDENTS

Earn credits at UMBC that transfer back to your home institution. Apply for summer session admission online by May 25 (for Session I) or July 6 (for Session II) and register for courses once you've been admitted.

NEW UMBC STUDENTS (FALL 2016)

New full- or part-time students already admitted to UMBC for fall 2016 do not need to complete another application for summer session. Contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions to request a change in your starting term from fall to summer 2016. Advising for new UMBC students is highly recommended, but not required.

PRE-COLLEGE STUDENTS

If you are a highly motivated high school student who meets early admission requirements, consider earning college credits this summer at UMBC. Contact the Undergraduate Admissions Office to speak to an admissions counselor.

Non-credit programs in STEM, arts, and the humanities are also available through UMBC's Summer Enrichment Experience for middle and high school students.

Campus Closure Policy

If classes are cancelled due to a university closing, the official make-up day is the first Saturday following the cancelled class. Instructors may also choose to reschedule classes on an alternate make-up day. Sign-up for e2Campus, an emergency alert text-messaging system that notifies subscribers of any campus-related emergency (such as a potential safety hazard or campus closure).

REGISTRATION • •

WHEN TO REGISTER

Registration begins on Monday, March 21, 2016. Advising is not required, but highly recommended. Since summer courses often fill, register early to avoid disappointment.

HOW TO REGISTER

CURRENT UMBC STUDENTS

If you are enrolled in the spring, you are already eligible to register in summer session. Search the schedule and register online using your smart phone or tablet.

INCOMING NEW UMBC STUDENTS

Get a jump start on your course requirements. Contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions to request a change in your starting term from fall to summer 2016.

VISITING STUDENTS

Apply for summer admission by May 25 (Session I) or July 6 (Session II).

You must be in good academic standing at your home institution and provide a current transcript to enroll in UMBC courses with prerequisite requirements. Confirm with your home institution that credits are transferable before you enroll.

Visit umbc.edu/summer for details on how to apply and enroll as a visiting student.

REGISTERING IN COURSES WITH PREREQUISITES

Visiting students attempting to register in UMBC courses with prerequisites will be blocked from enrolling. You must first verify that you've previously met the course prerequisites before you will be granted permission to enroll.

If you receive a registration error indicating that you do not have the appropriate prerequisites, or that you need consent to register, submit a prerequisite override request to the Office of Summer and Winter Programs. Visit umbc.edu/summer for more information.

DID YOU KNOW?

The summer session website is mobile friendly. You can easily search the schedule and register for classes on your smartphone or tablet. Visit umbc.edu/summer on a mobile device to access an easy-to-use mobile schedule of courses.

SCHEDULE CHANGES

The Schedule Adjustment Period provides four days at the start of each summer session to add, drop, or swap summer courses.

Session I Schedule Adjustment: May 31-June 3

Session II Schedule Adjustment: July 11-July 14

ADDING COURSES

Registration remains open through June 3 (Session I) and July 14 (Session II). If the class you want to add has already started, check with the instructor first—you might have already missed too much class time to catch up, and the instructor may deny you permission to enroll. Classes added during the Schedule Adjustment Period incur a $20 late registration fee.

DROPPING COURSES

There is no academic penalty for courses dropped during the four day Schedule Adjustment Period. If a course is dropped after the Schedule Adjustment Period, it is considered an attempt, and your transcript will record a "W" for the dropped course.

There is no financial penalty for courses dropped through the first day of each summer session (May 31-Session I; July 11-Session II). After the first day of each session, tuition and fee refunds are pro-rated based on the date the course is dropped.

SWAPPING COURSES

During the four day Schedule Adjustment Period you can "swap" a course for another course (with the same number of credits) without academic or financial penalty. If the class you want to add has already started, check with the instructor first—you might have already missed too much class time to catch up, and the instructor may deny you permission to enroll.

CLOSED COURSES & WAITLISTS

If a course is full, use myUMBC to place your name on the waitlist. If a seat opens in a closed course, eligible students are automatically enrolled according to their position on the waitlist.

Summer Session I

After May 27: Waitlists are disabled, and students are no longer enrolled automatically in Session I courses.

Summer Session II

After July 8: Waitlists are disabled, and students are no longer enrolled automatically in Session II courses.

Once waitlists are disabled, contact the Office of Summer & Winter Programs, or the instructor to check seat availability.

COURSE LOAD LIMIT

You can register for up to 16 credits in summer session (with a maximum of 8 credits in each of the two sessions).

Highly motivated and academically strong students may be granted permission to enroll in more than 8 credits per session with prior permission. Advanced approval is required from both the student's advisor and the Office of Academic and Pre-Professional Advising. Download an Excess Credit Request form at umbc.edu/summer.

REPEAT COURSES

You may not register for the same course more than two times. If there are special circumstances that require you to register for a course more than twice, you must first petition the Office of Undergraduate Education (OUE) to request a third and final attempt of a course taken at UMBC or another institution. Access the petition form at umbc.edu/summer.

HOW IS TUITION DETERMINED?

Summer session tuition is based on academic career (undergraduate or graduate), UMBC's standard credit hour tuition rates and Maryland residency. There are only two mandatory summer fees—an auxiliary facilities fee and a summer session fee. Some courses may have additional fees (such as lab or materials fees), which are noted in the online schedule of classes.

TUITION & FEES • •

UNDERGRADUATE TUITION (PER CREDIT HOUR)

MD resident	$335
Non-MD resident	$864

UNDERGRADUATE FEES

Application fee (visiting students only)	$50
Auxiliary facilities fee (per credit hour)	$22
Summer session flat fee	$20
*Late registration fee	$20

GRADUATE FEES

Online application (visiting students only)	$50
Paper application (visiting students only)	$70
Auxiliary facilities fee (per credit hour)	$22
Summer session flat fee	$20
*Late registration fee	$20

A non-refundable late registration fee is assessed when students register on the first day of the session or later.

This information reflects the proposed tuition and fees at the time of publication. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this or any other University publication, the University reserves the right to make changes in tuition, fees and other charges at any time such changes are deemed necessary by the University and the University System of Maryland Board of Regents.

See umbc.edu/summer for updates.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

SUMMER SESSION SCHOLARSHIPS

Let us help you GRIT going!

The Office of Summer & Winter Programs offers a limited number of full and partial summer session scholarships to UMBC degree-seeking students with a high GPA who are close to graduating. Financial need (demonstrated by current FAFSA form) is also considered.

Full scholarships cover tuition for ONE summer session course (up to 4 credits) based on UMBC's in-state undergraduate or graduate tuition rate.

Partial scholarships cover HALF of the tuition for ONE summer session course (up to 4 credits) based on UMBC's in-state undergraduate or graduate tuition rate.

The deadline to apply for a summer scholarship is Wednesday, April 20, 2016 at 5 p.m.

Visit umbc.edu/summer to review the scholarship eligibility requirements and complete the online application form.

FINANCIAL AID

Visit financialaid.umbc.edu (under Special Programs) for information about summer/winter federal aid, or call the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships at 410-455-2387.

SUMMER STEM AT UMBC

Join us this summer, and see why UMBC has earned a national reputation for its innovative culture, commitment to undergraduate research, and excellence in STEM education.

Summer STEM at UMBC provides high-quality, integrated courses in biology, chemistry, mathematics, physics (and other STEM related disciplines) offered in 4, 6, or 8 week sessions.

- Focus on the courses you need without the distractions of a full-time course load.
- Experience a world-class learning environment with dedicated and engaged faculty.
- Participate in active learning, collaboration, and hands-on discovery.

You'll be amazed at what you can accomplish in a summer!

Many students can complete their core STEM requirements in just two summers.

- Current UMBC students can enroll in Summer STEM courses beginning on March 21.
- Students from other institutions can enroll in Summer STEM courses to earn transferable credits. We make it easy for visiting students to apply and register!

For a complete list of Summer STEM courses, visit umbc.edu/summerSTEM.

Summer STEM at UMBC.

Courses you need, support to succeed.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

UMBC is dedicated to your success.

During summer session, academic support is available outside of class to improve your study skills, facilitate content understanding, and help you build a strong foundation for self-directed learning, an important skill for professionals in every field.

MATH & SCIENCE TUTORING

UMBC's Learning Resources Center offers small-group tutoring sessions for most mathematics and statistics courses, as well as most 100 and 200-level biology, chemistry, and physics courses. Tutoring is provided by current UMBC students who have demonstrated success in the subject they tutor, and the sessions typically last fifty minutes to an hour.

Be sure to come prepared with books, notes, and a few questions you would like addressed!

For tutoring times and locations, visit umbc.edu/lrc.

WRITING SUPPORT

Located on the first floor of the AOK Library, the Writing Center is a tutoring space dedicated to helping students with writing in any UMBC summer class. One-on-one support is provided for any stage of the writing process.

- If you're having trouble getting started, bring your assignment sheet and spend a few minutes talking about strategies for getting started.
- If you have an outline, we can help you expand and improve on that.
- If you've got a paper written and need it reviewed, we can help with that, too.

Tutors will not tell you what to write or fix mistakes for you, but they will help you learn to critique and improve your own writing.

CULTURE & SOCIAL JUSTICE

Social Justice (so·cial jus·tice) noun. 1: a social philosophy advocating the removal of inequalities among people; 2: the idea of acting with equality, fairness and dignity to all human beings.

This summer, interdisciplinary departments in UMBC's College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences will offer general education courses focused on topics in culture and social justice.

These courses address relevant social issues, while promoting critical thinking and writing skills. They offer a view of social issues and practices from various perspectives, as well as the intersectional analysis of race, class, and gender. Courses in culture & social justice invite students to understand and analyze structural inequalities while challenging them to envision and build a better future.

AFRICANA STUDIES

Africana Studies provides the tools to understand, critically evaluate, analyze and interpret events and phenomena that structure the experiences, possibilities and dynamics of the people of African descent in the U.S., Africa and its Diasporas. Courses address the cultural, economic, historical, political, psychological and sociological issues that affect peoples of African descent.

AFST 100

Introduction to the Black Experience

Introduces the black experience in the African Diaspora through a survey of historical and sociocultural ties that link people of African descent worldwide. Evaluates ideas about the different cultural, economic, psychological, sociological, and political challenges confronting people of African descent in the 21st century.

Africa: Culture & Development

An introduction to the history, peoples, cultures, languages, and societies of the African continent. While addressing the diversity of African cultural history and development, other themes include the colonial and post-colonial period, African nationalism, neo-colonialism, and African culture and development today.

4W1—Mon/Wed/Fri 9-12:10 pm

Gloria Chuku

AFST 340

African Drumming and Dance

This hands-on workshop teaches the techniques of West African drumming as well as the cultural and historical significance of the djembe drum. Students learn specific musical styles and traditions by singing West African songs and using traditional and contemporary African musical instruments. No prior experience with African drumming, singing, or dancing is necessary. Also listed as DANC 301.

6W2—Tues/Thurs 1-4:10 pm

Kwame Ansah-Brew

AFST 370

Black Women: Cross-Cultural Perspectives

A comparative examination of selected social, cultural, economic, and psychological factors that influence the lives of black women in Africa and the Diaspora. Particular attention is paid to the contemporary circumstances impacting the life chances of black American women. Also listed as GWST 370.

SUMMER SERVICE LEARNING

You can make a difference! Summer is a great time to make a meaningful contribution in your community through service learning. UMBC's Shriver Center coordinates summer service learning placements in a variety of areas, including education, the environment, food and housing access, healthcare and mental health.

Develop leadership skills, build self-confidence, and help create a better future. Change begins with you!

Contact The Shriver Center at 410-455-2493, or visit shrivercenter.umbc.edu/service-learning for details.

AMERICAN STUDIES

A focus on issues of race, ethnicity, class, gender, and social justice has always been integral to the American Studies Department. These courses provide skills to critically analyze issues of place, identity, and community through a comparative and transnational lens.

AMST 320

TV and American Culture

Examines the economic, social and artistic implications of television in the United States. It explores how TV's history interacts with class, gender, ethnicity, and sexuality in terms of social hegemony. Explore new ways people consume media and how television is now available on many platforms and what that means for the industry as it tries to survive in the 21st century.

6W1—Tues/Thurs 1-4:10 pm

Michael Hummel

AMST 352

American Culture in Global Perspective

Emphasizes American consumer culture in the context of globalization. Illuminates the meaning and history of particular American social structures, cultural values and ideological themes by placing them in a global perspective. Explore topics like "McDonaldization," the global labor and ecological issues surrounding the garment industry, and the representational politics of American mass-mediated entertainment as public diplomacy.

6W1—Tues/Thurs 1-4:10 pm (SHADY GROVE)

Dabrina Taylor

AMST 375

Studies in Asian American Culture

Surveys salient topics and debates in Asian American cultural studies. Examines historical information on immigration patterns for various Asian groups, but the main focus explores cultural contributions of Asians in the U.S. through literature and film.

6W2—Tues/Thurs 6-9:10 p.m.

Neha Singhal

AMST 395

American Music and Culture: "Race and Power: Hip Hop and Rap in America"

What relationship does the Hip Hop movement have to the corporatization of rap as a genre, and how has that affected racial politics in America in the last 30 years? A variety of topics are examined, including literature, film and media, to discuss the political economy of Hip Hop as a movement, and Rap as a genre.

6W2—Mon/Wed 9-12:10 p.m.

Ellen Gorman

"Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world."
—Nelson Mandela

GENDER & WOMEN'S STUDIES

Gender and Women's Studies courses provide skills to critically analyze how gender and sexuality intersect with differences of race, class, nationality, ability status, and more. Courses help demonstrate how these axes of difference structure unequal access to resources, distribute life chances differently, and produce and challenge justice in local and global settings. Courses help students think critically, not just about the origins of injustice, but also the ways people strive to achieve social justice.

GWST 210

Introduction to Critical Sexuality Studies

Examines the history and roots of inequality with a particular focus on sexual and gender minorities both locally and globally. It also looks at the intersections of sexuality with other differences such as gender, race, class, and ability. Students learn about social justice movements to challenge these inequalities. Also listed as AMST 210.

6W1—HYBRID Wed 1-4:10 p.m.

Kate Drabinski

GWST 310

Gender and Inequality in America

Examines the roots of gender, class, and race-based inequalities through case studies of gender, labor, and globalization and the growth of the U.S. prison system. Students also learn to evaluate and propose policy solutions and actions for social change. Also listed as AMST 310.

6W1—HYBRID Mon 1-4:10 p.m.

Kate Drabinski

GWST 338/POLI 338

Women, Gender and Law

Examines ways in which gender affects rights within the American civil and criminal legal systems. It explores the interrelationship between traditional attitudes and stereotypes concerning women's roles in society and the historical development of women's legal rights. Topics include discrimination in employment and education, reproduction rights, and criminal law issues affecting women, including domestic violence, rape and prostitution.

6W2—Mon/Wed 6:30-9:40 p.m.

Jennifer Kent

SOCIOLOGY

Sociology courses provide an understanding of how social interactions, opportunities, and attitudes are shaped by social structures and membership in social categories (social class, gender, race, ethnicity, ability, etc.). Courses encourage students to develop a "sociological imagination" and use sociological approaches to critically analyze social inequalities and injustices, their causes, their consequences, and potential way to achieve social justice for disadvantaged populations.

See online schedule of classes at umbc.edu/summer for course details.

HYBRID COURSES ● ● ● ●

Hybrid courses (partially online/partially in-person) reduce the number of in-class meetings by replacing some in-person classes with online, out-of-class, or interactive learning activities. Hybrid courses require more independent learning on the part of the student than an in-person class.

SUMMER BRIDGE PROGRAM FOR NEW FRESHMEN

Get a jump start on college, and get ready for the fall.

Your path to graduation begins with a solid foundation in mathematics and writing. That's why all incoming freshmen are required to take a math and English class within their first year at UMBC.

The six-week Summer Bridge Program, through UMBC's Collegiate Success Institute (CSI), pairs a required introductory math or writing course with an interactive seminar to help ease the transition to college.

Outside of class, dedicated CSI staff coordinate tutoring and study groups, offer individual advising, and organize special events for new students. It's a great way to get ahead, meet new friends, and learn your way around campus. Students who successfully complete the program will earn 4-8 credits, and receive a scholarship equal to one credit of fall in-state tuition.

MATH TRACK: College Algebra (MATH 106) or Pre-Calculus (MATH 150)

These courses are prerequisites for calculus (MATH 151), the required fall math course for incoming STEM majors at UMBC. MATH 150 also meets the general education math requirement for all majors. Your math course placement is based on selected major and math placement test scores.

Contact CSI Staff to determine which math option is right for you.

ENGLISH TRACK: English Composition (ENGL 100)

English Composition is required in the first year for incoming freshman and a core writing course for all majors. Enroll in the summer to master college-level writing, and to practice critical thinking, reading, research, and analytical skills.

ITALY STUDY ABROAD

POLI 469: Special Topics in Comparative Politics: Italian Politics
(3 credits)

June 30-July 29

COURSE OVERVIEW

POLI 469 introduces the complicated world of Italian politics, and an appreciation of the difficulties that Italian politicians face when trying to endorse political change. It focuses on institutional analysis—the study of the decision making process in government itself. It also presents the important role the Italian economy plays in the European Union, and how Italy is responding to ongoing economic problems and the current migrant crisis.

Dr. Carolyn Forestiere, who spent several years studying and working in Italy, presents a foundation for understanding not only Italian politics, but also the politics of other European Union countries as well.

THE COUNTRY

Located in the heart of Tuscany, Siena is a small, peaceful city (somewhat off the beaten path) that provides an authentic Italian daily living experience. Siena also lies within easy distance of most of Italy's most popular and well-traveled hotspots, such as Florence and Rome, Venice, Milan, and Naples.

Students from all majors are encouraged to apply. Contact Dr. Forestiere at forestie@umbc.edu for details.

POLAND STUDY ABROAD

POLI 372: Transitioning States and Nations (3 credits)*

July 11-August 5

COURSE OVERVIEW

Poland—the country that sparked the fall of communism in Europe—becomes a laboratory to study democratization and nation-building.

POLI 372 traces modern Poland's tragic path from multiculturalism to ethnic homogeneity, as well as its triumphant path from imperial subject to independent state. The program includes visits to sites in Krakow, Gdansk and Warsaw and illuminates the historical and cultural factors that have helped create the current democratic Polish nation.

The program is led by Dr. Brian Grodsky, an expert on democratization and human rights, who has spent several years in Poland as a researcher, reporter, and U.S. diplomat.

*Pending course approval by UGC.

THE COUNTRY

Poland offers a number of natural attractions, from beaches on the Baltic coast and expansive lakes in the north, to the beautiful Tatry mountains in the south. Students will also have opportunities to travel outside of class.

Students from all majors are encouraged to apply. Contact Dr. Grodsky at bgrotsky@umbc.edu for detailed information.

REDUCED PROGRAM COST

Tuition costs to enroll in POLI 372 and POLI 469 will be waived for Summer Session 2016 to make these faculty-led study abroad programs more affordable for UMBC students. Students are responsible for all other program costs, including airfare, in-country transportation, meals, etc.

STUDY ABROAD DEADLINES

Summer 2016 online study abroad applications are due no later than March 10, and supplementary application materials are due March 11, 2016.

For more information, visit studyabroad.umbc.edu.

UMBC SUMMER ENRICHMENT EXPERIENCE

FOR MIDDLE AND HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

UMBC is proud to bring back the Summer Enrichment Experience (SEE) for 2016!

SEE is a commuter day program that brings the college experience to middle and high school students through exciting one- and two-week non-credit academic enrichment activities in STEM (science, technology, engineering, and mathematics) and the Arts & Humanities. Participants will work alongside UMBC faculty, students, and industry experts allowing them to tap into their creative talents, expand critical thinking, and hone their academic skills.

STUDENT SERVICES CHECKLIST • •

Before summer session begins, be sure you have everything ready to GRIT going! Visit umbc.edu/summer to find all the information you need to get started in summer session.

myUMBC

myUMBC is a web-based portal to student services and online resources at UMBC. Use myUMBC to register for classes, view your account balance, pay your bill, request a parking permit, check university email and view your final grades.

BLACKBOARD

Blackboard is UMBC's online course management system. When you register for classes, you are automatically enrolled in Blackboard. Log into Blackboard early to check for updates. Faculty often post course assignments and resources before the session begins.

e2CAMPUS (TEXT ALERTS)

Sign-up for e2Campus, an emergency alert text-messaging system that notifies subscribers of any campus-related emergency (such as a potential safety hazard or campus closure).

TEXTBOOKS

Summer textbooks are available in May through the UMBC Bookstore.

HOUSING

Summer apartment housing is available for both UMBC and visiting students. Contact UMBC's Office of Residential Life or visit umbc.edu/reslife to learn more about on-campus housing options in summer session.

PARKING PERMITS

A valid UMBC permit is required to park on campus (cost is included in the summer session fee). Visiting students should order a parking permit early to ensure you have it before the start of classes. Summer session parking permits are available after May 1.
